Our awards banquet was a great success thanks to Mada Skare for handling the plaques, bars and program, Ginny Altman for handling all the details with the restaurant and registration, and Cindy Muehlbauer and Bobby Moore for handling decorations, prizes and the PowerPoint show. On page 3 you can see who got the people awards.

There will be no training on Friday February 8 since the Animal Inn is booked for the Collie Club show. The membership meeting will move to the following week Feb. 15. The next date that the Inn is closed is April 12, which will mean that the April meeting will be April 19.

Ron Halling has started his obedience workshops again and the first one of the year was very successful. He demonstrated the use of an air horn to stop a dog from misbehaving in a crate when other dogs passed. The dog stopped instantly when the air horn sounded. After that all the dogs present passed the crate and if there was any reaction, the owner only had to say "honk" with authority and the dog immediately settled down. Ron said the air horn only needed to be used once and after that the verbal "honk" was all that would be needed. The next workshop is February 23.

Jinny Bailey has taken over the Beginning and Intermediate obedience classes since Eileen Varhalla has retired from training for us. Eileen told me she doesn't miss the drive from Stacy at all.

I will try to get back on a monthly schedule with the Shep-O-Gram now that I don't have the presidential duties any more. Our new officers are, Conni Sokolouski- President, Bobby Moore- Vice President, Linda Salava- Secretary, Cindy Muehlbauer- Treasurer, Board members, Ginny Altman, Lisa Lunde, and Denise Gilbertson. Please welcome them into their new positions.

Recognition Awards for 2012

Cliff Good Sportsmanship Award -Mike Wakeling

As we all know Mike was a mainstay of our club for many many years. He came to almost every event and was always there to give a helping hand or quiet smile.

President's Award -Virginia Bailey

Virginia, or Jinny, is behind the scenes at every event. She prides herself on being a "go-fer" going for whatever is needed filling in all the gaps. She works at the obedience, rally, herding and agility trials and just about anything else we do.

Certificates of Appreciation

Conni Sokolouski Vice President

Conni is always helpful and helps fill in the gaps. She makes sure that we get flowers out to our members in the hospital also.

Bobby Moore Secretary

In addition to being our secretary, Bobby organized the veterinary part of our GSD Fun Day with great success and arranged for our TDI /CGC evaluator as well as designing the certificates we give out at the banquet and the PowerPoint show.

Denise Gilbertson Treasurer

Denise had major battles to fight with the software required for her job but came through with great reports. She also helped with one of our matches.

Ginny Altman Board member

Ginny is always on top of all the rules and interpretations. She organized the banquet arrangements this year and was always there for me when I needed help with anything.

Linda Salava Board member

Linda is also membership chair and that keeps her busy. She is always reliable in whatever she is asked to do.

Lisa Lunde Board member

Lisa gave a great performance in her "Ask the Vet" session at the State Fair again this year.

Pam Magadance

Pam does amazing things that we may not all realize because they tend to be behind the scenes. She handled our Herding trial this year and once again tabulated all the points for the Regional Challenge. She doesn't just round up the points and verifications, she gives us a summary of where the points came from. I think most of us assume that because we have fantastic conformation dogs in our club that most of the points come from that area. If you look at Pam's reports, you will find that there are an enormous number of points coming from the therapy dogs and the performance dogs. We should thank Pam for all the work she puts into those reports. .

Don Cliff Award
Bertie Wakeling and Mike's daughter Shannon

President's Award
Jinny Bailey

Julie Swinland, retiring President

Dave Bissionnette "Web Guy"

Laurie Schray

Laurie is another quiet behind the scenes person who has been in charge of most of our food for activities ranging from the GSD Fun Day to the specialty shows. She also along with Holly Bryan, collected a phenomenal amount of donations for our trophy fund.

Mike Metz

Mike was in charge of the grounds committee this year for our specialty show and did another great job. He also sometimes instructs the conformation classes on Friday nights.

Dave Bissionnette The Web Guy, Dave is not just a pretty face, he takes the pictures at most of the club events and is constantly working on our club web as well as getting special bulletins out to the membership via e-mail.

Cristina McColl

Cristina was our Specialty show Secretary in 2012. That is a really big job. She also took on the fall match.

Verna Kubik

Verna worked on our herding trials with Pam Magadance keeping things on track. She is always there to give advice and make sure we don't miss anything. I knew I could count on her to keep me from forgetting anything all year. She also once again offered her training facility for our annual GSD Fun Day. She and Jinny work long and hard to make everything perfect.

Kathy Balaban

Kathy worked on raffles for agility trials and specialty shows match chair spring match. She accumulated amazing items for the specialty raffle and took in far more than expected. She also sometimes handles the desk on training nights.

Peggy Simerson

Always a smiling face. She searches out great deals on items for trophies and prizes for specialties, matches and the supported all breed shows.

Kathy DuVall

Kathy once again did a fantastic job of rescuing GSD's and finding "forever" homes for them Rescue

Ann & Ken Jeddelloh

Ann is always there wherever she is needed and Ken too. Ann helped with many food booths over the year, handled the desk at training and was an all around promoter for our club talking many new people into joining. Ken also helped by hauling the trailer around for us.

Ron & Ann Halling

Ann and Ron provided food for various events and helped with the food table for the specialty shows. Ron helped clean up the obedience building before and after the trials. He also held numerous obedience workshops for GSD's and Ann cooked excellent food for the lunches.

Eileen Varhalla

Eileen retired this year after many many years as lead instructor for our club. She has always helped with obedience at our trials. She will be missed but she won't have to make the long drive down through snow storms on Friday nights. We will see her again soon I hope.

Rhonda Meath

Rhonda is our agility chair. She worked very hard last year not "just" doing the work as chair but she accumulated quite a stash for our raffle bringing in over $1000 for Rescue. She also provided a lot of the food for workers and donated the Katja memorial trophy for high scoring dog over the 3 days.

Perianal Fistulas in Dogs

Veterinary & Aquatic Services Department, Drs. Foster & Smith

Perianal fistulas are chronic and progressive lesions that occur around the anus in dogs. Deep and draining ulcers form, which are painful. The disease may also be referred to as “anal furunculosis.”

What causes perianal fistulas?

The exact cause of these fistulas is not known, but is thought to start as an inflammation of the sweat and sebaceous (oil) glands in and around the anus, followed by infection of the area. Abscesses form, open, and then drain. The warm, moist area around the anus and under the tail, and the large numbers of bacteria in the area, make an excellent environment for bacteria to multiply.

What dogs are at risk for perianal fistulas?

Perianal fistulas most commonly occur in middle-aged (5-8 years old) male dogs, but can occur in dogs as young as 1 year and as old as 14 years. German Shepherds are particularly prone to this disease, and in one study accounted for 84% of the dogs diagnosed. This may be due to the larger number of glands in the perianal area when compared to other breeds, or the way the tail is set and carried. German Shepherds are also more prone to immune-mediated diseases, which may be a component of this condition. Other breeds that have been reported as having perianal fistulas include Labrador Retrievers, Irish Setters, Old English Sheepdogs, Border Collies, Bulldogs, Spaniels, and mixed breeds.

What are the signs of perianal fistulas?

A dog with perianal fistulas will often chew or lick the perianal area more frequently, or may scoot his anal area across the floor or ground. A dog with this disease may be constipated, have diarrhea, or pass stools more frequently. The dog may also have difficulty or show pain on passing stool, strain, have fecal incontinence (cannot control the bowel movements), or have blood in the stool.

Ulcers and bleeding may be seen around the anal area, as well as foul-smelling discharge. The ulcers may be very small, or over several inches in diameter, and may extend up the tail. The anal glands and rectal tissue may also be involved. Some dogs will become lethargic, lose their appetites, and start to lose weight. Because of the discomfort and pain, owners may notice a change in behavior of the dog. Even lifting the tail may cause extreme pain. The area around the anus may become darker in color as the chronically inflamed skin develops more pigment.

How are perianal fistulas diagnosed?

Diagnosis is based on physical examination and history. Sedation may be necessary to perform a thorough examination since the condition can be very painful. Biopsy samples will confirm the diagnosis.

How are perianal tumors treated?

Medical and surgical treatments have both been used. Mild conditions may be treated with clipping the hair in the anal region, cleansing the area with an antiseptic solution, and flushing with large amounts of water (hydrotherapy). For more serious conditions, a combination of oral cyclosporine and ketoconazole has been shown to be effective in treating these fistulas. Treatment usually must last for 7-9 weeks. Most dogs will show remission with this treatment, however, recurrence is common after treatment is stopped, especially in dogs that had moderate or severe disease.

AMERICAN KENNEL CLUB'S CANINE GOOD CITIZEN

BECOMES AN OFFICIAL AKC TITLE

New York, NY - In celebration of dogs with good manners at home and in the community, beginning January 1, 2013, passing the AKC®'s Canine Good Citizen® test can be recognized as an official American Kennel Club® title for all dogs.

Since the program began in 1989, the CGC® has been considered an "award." Dogs that passed the 10-step test received a certificate, but CGC was not listed on the dog's title record. Now as a result of frequent requests from dog owners and instructors, owners of dogs registered or listed with AKC will be able to use the CGC suffix after the dog's name and include Canine Good Citizen on their dog's official title record.

"We're pleased to celebrate the accomplishments of the thousands of dogs that pass the Canine Good Citizen test each year by offering CGC as a title," said Mary Burch, PhD, director of AKC's Canine Good Citizen program. "The CGC program tests the skills that make dogs a joy to live with and many owners have expressed the desire to officially add this 'badge of honor' to the end of their dog's official AKC name. We hope that CGC is the first of many titles these dogs earn."

For dogs that pass the test on or after January 1, 2013, owners will be able to choose from two options on the CGC test form: CGC as a title or CGC certificate only.

CGC as a title: CGC will be listed on the dog's official AKC title record. The dog must be registered or listed with AKC (via an AKC registration number, PAL listing, or AKC Canine Partners listing). Owners will receive the CGC certificate and may use the suffix "CGC" after the dog's name.

CGC certificate only: CGC will not appear on the dog's official AKC title record.

Owners whose dogs earned the CGC award from January 1, 2001 onward may convert the award into a title by filling out and submitting this form.

AKC began accepting CGC title applications on Monday, December 17, 2012. The processing of all CGC title application will begin Wednesday, January 2, 2013. Learn more about CGC as a title here.

To compete or earn any AKC titles, including the new CGC title, dogs must have an AKC number: an AKC registration number, a Purebred Alternative Listing (PAL) number or an AKC Canine PartnersSM number. If your dog doesn't already have an AKC number, learn how to obtain one here.

The Canine Good Citizen program is a two-part program that stresses responsible pet ownership for owners and basic good manners for dogs. Many dog owners choose Canine Good Citizen training as the first step in training their dogs. The program lays the foundation for other AKC activities such as obedience, agility, tracking, and performance events and also serves to enhance the bond between owner and dog, making dogs a pleasure with which to live. Get started or find a CGC instructor or approved AKC CGC evaluator.

The American Kennel Club (AKC) proudly celebrated its 125th Anniversary in 2009. Since 1884 the not-for-profit organization has maintained the largest registry of purebred dogs in the world, and today its rules govern more than 20,000 canine competitions each year. The AKC is dedicated to upholding the integrity of its registry, promoting the sport of purebred dogs and breeding for type and function. Along with its nearly 5,000 licensed and member clubs and its affiliated organizations, the AKC advocates for the purebred dog as a family companion, advances canine health and well-being, works to protect the rights of all dog owners and promotes responsible dog ownership. Affiliate AKC organizations include the AKC Humane Fund, AKC Canine Health Foundation, AKC Companion Animal Recovery and the AKC Museum of the Dog. For more information, visit www.akc.org.
